Why clean means green in Brighton & Hove

Strong partnership

By any standard, the partnership between Brighton & Hove City Council and NViro is a successful one.

Since 2004 when the council awarded NViro the contract to clean over 100 of its buildings, the financially transparent business relationship between the two parties has delivered three important benefits: high standards of cleaning in the city's buildings, improved pay conditions for staff and a groundbreaking environmental initiative.

NViro helps manage the council's recycling programme

With the government setting 30% recycling targets for local authorities, councils are looking for business partners with the expertise to help them meet this challenging objective.

As virtually the only ISO 14001-registered cleaning company in the region, NViro has risen to the challenge by introducing and managing the 'waste bin to waste pick-up' recycling process at the council's Kings House offices. The result is an increase of up to 200% in paper recycling alone and, in a forward thinking move, the council has now agreed that productivity savings made by NViro in its cleaning operation should be re-invested in the rollout of further eco-friendly cleaning initiatives across the council's buildings. This will start with the funding of a survey to establish exactly how much waste the council currently recycles.

Danny Meehan, Facilities Support Manager, says: "Brighton & Hove is a progressive council, especially on environmental issues, but we could not have carried out the improvements without NViro. They are always coming up with ideas and live up to their ISO 14001 status".

Shareholders demand a green supply chain too

As environmental concern grips the corporate and social agenda, more and more organisations are turning to suppliers who not only manage the impact of their own operations on the environment, but help clients to do the same

To talk to NViro about your cleaning and recycling requirements call Stephen MacDonald on 0800 032 1334 or visit www.nviro.co.uk.

Introduction

Welcome to the fifth edition of the Brighton & Hove Business Directory - a comprehensive guide to businesses in the city.

The directory is produced by the Economic Development & Enterprise Unit of the council as part of their commitment to developing local enterprise. We hope that the directory will encourage increased trade between local companies and provide accessible information about the many sources of advice and support available to local businesses of all sizes and stages of growth.

This time, we've included some additional features about the exciting major development projects underway in the city, work being done to develop skills in the local workforce and opportunities arising from the awarding of the 2012 Olympics to London.

We trust you will find the directory contains all you need to make business decisions, whether you are a local company looking for trading partners or expert advice, or a business from outside the area wanting to know more about the excellent range of opportunities to be found in the city.

We are delighted that the local economy continues to flourish, supported by traditional sectors such as tourism and financial services and the fast-growing creative industries sector. Brighton & Hove City Council works in partnership with local businesses and strategic organisations to provide a clear economic strategy for the city, to ensure that the whole community shares in this continued success.

Sustainability is at the forefront of the Council's thinking and now underlies planning decisions on all levels. As part of the council's commitment to creating a sustainable city we have included a special feature highlighting environmentally friendly practices that are easy to adopt and can save money for your business.

The city council is committed to supporting existing local businesses and attracting new enterprise, and works actively to provide the best conditions for their continued success. We welcome your views at any time on how we can do this better.

Alan McCarthy
Chief Executive

Cllr Simon Burgess
Leader, Brighton & Hove City Council

A Thriving Economy

With an annual GDP in the region of £3.7 billion, the city's economy continues to grow and be seen as a key driver of the South East coastal economy. It's strength is based on Brighton & Hove's renewed attraction as a conference and tourist destination, a steady increase in business and financial services and an increasingly successful, high-value creative industries sector.

Popular for business and pleasure

Over 8 million people visit Brighton each year for business and pleasure bringing an estimated £400 million into the local economy. Famous for its cultural heritage, architecture, unique shopping areas and wonderful seaside location, the city hosts England's largest annual Arts Festival, Gay Pride and many other unique and exciting events throughout the year. A thriving music scene, a choice of many theatres and clubs and a wealth of fabulous restaurants supports a vibrant night-time economy.

New developments in the pipeline such as the ground-breaking Frank Ghery plans for the King Alfred community leisure centre, and the i360 scheme near the West Pier site are exciting prospects that will add to the city's attractions. The planned redevelopment of the Brighton Centre and surrounding area will ensure that Brighton & Hove continues to be a world-class conference destination in the years to come.

A strong financial & business sector

Less well recognised is the role of the substantial financial and business services sector in supporting a quarter of all local jobs. In view of its importance, provision of new high-quality 'headquarter style' accommodation is included in many of the capital projects currently planned for the city, offering larger employers the opportunity to expand in the future.

New Media clusters

The city's New Media cluster is one of the largest in Europe and our many "knowledge businesses" promise to be central to future prosperity. We have been successful in attracting strategically important start-up businesses in this area who receive support locally from sector specific networks such as Wired Sussex, Creative Brighton and Brighton Music Network.

Business Sectors

There are approximately 8,500 VAT registered businesses in Brighton & Hove. The following tables show the size of the various sectors and the number of people they employ.

Academic support for businesses

Businesses benefit from the city's two well-established universities that provide an attractive source of graduate labour and world class research facilities. Brighton University has an active business school, which offers an entrepreneurship programme called Bee purple. The University of Sussex provides incubation facilities for high-tech and knowledge based businesses through the Sussex Innovation Centre and other channels.

City College Brighton & Hove has received recognition for providing excellent standards of training that match the skills needed by local employers, particularly in Digital Design, Hospitality, Business, Management and Finance and Heritage Engineering.

Building for the future

The city's prosperity looks set to continue with an estimated £2 billion being invested in over twenty infrastructure projects that will bring new inward investment, jobs, homes, community facilities, leisure and retail opportunities to all parts of the city. They all aim to deliver exemplary urban design with the highest forms of environmental sustainability.

Physical regeneration projects in the city centre include the re-development of the seafront and the Churchill Square shopping centre, investment in the City's cultural quarter and redevelopment of the Brighton Station and surrounding area. The recently completed Jubilee Library has already won national awards for its sustainable design. In addition, the planned renaissance of the London Road and Lewes Road areas will enhance two of the main 'gateways' into the city.

A sustainable city

Environmentally responsible planning is now at the core of all the council's decisions and the focus is on working in collaboration with stakeholders across the city to ensure the kind of joined-up thinking that will make Brighton & Hove a sustainable city where everyone can continue to thrive in the years to come.

As part of this approach the local authority is encouraging local businesses to offer their goods and services to the council and is making it simpler for smaller businesses to bid successfully for contracts.

A city of entrepreneurs

The entrepreneurial spirit is strong in Brighton & Hove with the proportion of self-employed people estimated at 14%, which is 3% above the national average. The city boasts the largest number of independent shops on the south coast and retail, with a turnover of almost £900m a year, forms a significant part of the visitor economy.

A young dynamic population

Brighton & Hove has a young, dynamic and well-educated population. Of the estimated 255,000 residents in the city a third are between the ages of 24 –44 and this proportion is increasing as more people in the younger age bracket migrate into the city.

About 10,000 students graduate from the city's two universities each year and many remain in the city to work, adding to the high level of education in the area. Currently around 35,000 residents commute out of the city to work and another 30,000 travel in from surrounding areas.

Economic activity

Although average earnings are below the national and south east figures, the average annual household income in the city is approximately £30,500, which is slightly above the national average of £29,000.

The Economic Development & Enterprise Unit

The Economic Development team has joined with a new Programme Delivery team to form the Economic Development & Enterprise Unit, managed by Elizabeth Cameron.

There are nine members of staff in the unit, one working part of the week on secondment with the Brighton & Hove Business Forum. The South East England Development Agency (SEEDA) Investor Development Manager also works out of the office two days a week providing an aftercare service to key businesses in the city.

The Programme Delivery Team

The new programme delivery team manages the spending of regeneration money from central government that comes into the city via various funding streams. Part of their role is to commission projects related to physical regeneration, workforce training and business support that are eligible to receive funding and then to monitor the delivery phase. Bidding for the first round of projects began in September 2006 and the successful projects were selected in January 2007. You can read more about the work they are currently delivering through the Area Investment Framework at www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/AIF

The Economic Development Team

The work of the Economic Development part of the unit is twofold. Team members work extensively at a strategic level to represent the needs of local business, help shape workforce training, inform planning decisions and support projects that regenerate specific areas of the economy. We also offer direct support and advice to businesses on a range of issues which are outlined in more detail on the opposite page.

Working in partnership

Increasingly the emphasis within the council is working in partnership with all the stakeholders in the city to agree priorities, and to streamline and focus funding and effort to achieve the maximum benefit. We frequently co-ordinate and support partnership working with businesses, support agencies, educational establishments and other government organisations working towards improving the city's economy.

Working to priorities

The work of the unit sits clearly within one of the council's four corporate priorities which is "developing a prosperous and sustainable economy".

Our priorities are laid out in several documents that can be accessed through the council's website – the Local Area Agreement for Brighton & Hove, the Economic Strategy and the Sustainable Community Strategy.

The key objectives for economic development are to:

- ✳ Diversify and broaden the city's economic base
- ✳ Provide specialist support to the city's key and growth sectors
- ✳ Attract inward investment into the city to create new jobs for local people
- ✳ Improve business longevity and support our existing companies to grow successfully
- ✳ Promote the city as a serious business location and as a place to "be in business"

Supporting sustainable business

As the body responsible for local government in the city the council is placing sustainability at the heart of all its plans for future development. The role of the EDE team in this is to actively support businesses in their efforts to adopt more sustainable business practices. In this issue we have included a special feature offering tips on how your business can lessen its environmental impact and save money.

Tourism

Brighton & Hove receives nearly 8 million visitors a year who come to enjoy the city's many unique attractions. Lying between the sea and the beautiful south downs, with world-class conference facilities, unique shopping areas and a vibrant cultural life the city has something for everyone and is currently rated in the top ten destinations for overseas visitors.

Historically the city's key business sector, tourism brings an estimated £400 million into the local economy each year and supports 6,500 jobs. Plans to improve competitiveness and make Brighton & Hove one of the world's premier cities by the sea are set out in the city's Tourism Strategy. It's vision is to achieve 12% more jobs, a visitor economy worth over £600 million per annum and a year round sustainable tourism industry.

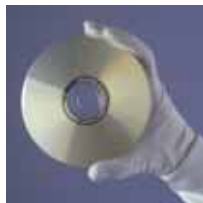

Several major developments underway in the city will contribute enormously to the city's attraction for sports and culture, and pave the way for this vision to become a reality. You can read about these developments in more detail on pages 22-23 of the directory.

Whether you are organising a conference, looking for accommodation, or want to know what's happening in the city next weekend, the council's dedicated visitor website offers a wealth of information and help.

Training the Workforce

For business to thrive over the long term there needs to be a correlation between the skills of the local workforce and the needs of employers.

The body that brings together the parties involved in identifying and meeting these needs is the Brighton & Hove Learning Partnership (BHLP). Its aim is to ensure education providers and key stakeholders provide appropriate, high quality training in the city, that relates to the needs of employers in specific sectors of the economy. The EDE unit plays an active role in the Partnership by representing the needs and views of local businesses, as well as keeping up to date about emerging and priority sectors.

Taking a consensus approach, these partners choose a set of priorities on which to focus the available funds and other resources to maximum effect. To identify priorities the BHLP engages with employers within a specific sector to research current and future staffing needs. For example, potential gaps can emerge when experienced staff retire or pathways may need to be put in place for less experienced workers to qualify to work at higher levels.

Nationally the 2012 Olympics present a huge opportunity for the region. The next six years is an optimum time for focussing resources on the sports sector both for developing facilities and workforce skills. Several of the major building projects being developed in the city will include new, modern sporting facilities, which you can read more about on pages 22-23.

Of course, staff with the appropriate skills will be needed at all these facilities, including sports officer trainers, grounds people, sports health workers, life-guards, textiles designers and producers for sports wear, and teams within the council will be actively targeting this area of workforce development.

Award winning training

Centre of Vocational Excellence (COVE) status is awarded to training providers who can demonstrate to the Learning & Skills Council (LSC) that they provide excellent standards of training that match the skills needed by local employers in a particular sector of business. City College Brighton and Hove currently has COVE status in the areas of Digital Design, Hospitality, Business, Management and Finance and Heritage Engineering. The college has also been awarded Action for Business Colleges accreditation by the LSC, which signals that the College has proven its commitment, capacity and ability to deliver and shape provision to local employer's training and development needs.

Helping employees!

The Learning Directory, provided by the BHLP, is designed to save you the difficult job of sifting through a mountain of prospectuses to find a provider in the area with a course in your subject area. It can be viewed at: www.bhlp.org.uk

The council's supported employment team offers a range of services designed to help local people with disabilities to develop work skills and access jobs.

The team can provide support and information to businesses employing people who have a disability. This could include disability awareness guidance for members of the employer's staff team and information about reasonable adjustments that could be considered. The team can also arrange for details of vacancies to be circulated to people who live in the local area who are ready and able to work.

Through the Workstep and the Employment Support Service programmes the team enables people on incapacity benefit to find full or part-time employment and can offer help throughout the process from writing a CV to providing ongoing support in the workplace. To find out more contact the Supported Employment team on [01273 296961](tel:01273 296961).

Brighton & Hove City Council also has a thriving supported manufacturing business in Castleham, Hove employing local people and providing work placement opportunities. ## The Community & Voluntary Sector

Community and voluntary sector organisations play a valuable role in the city's economy. There are around six organisations for every 1,000 residents with over 10,000 people involved. An Economic & Social Audit undertaken in 2003 showed that the Gross Value added to the local economy was £20.7 million. 58% of all sector expenditure is on employee costs, most of which is reinvested in the city. In addition the Sector contributes enormously to developing the skills of the workforce through training and volunteering initiatives. With the development of Community Interest Companies and increasing emphasis on the role of Social Enterprises, the distinction between the voluntary and business sectors is becoming blurred.

The Voluntary Sector & External Funding Unit within the council provides dedicated support to voluntary sector organisations. Services delivered include:

- ✿ Administration of the council's discretionary grants budget - The council invests around £1.5 million each year in discretionary grants to not-for-profit organisations through a range of grant programmes.
- ✿ Additional external grant schemes - Delivery of the Global Grants Programme, worth £200,000 p.a., to support projects that increase residents' employment skills.
- ✿ Community Development Commissioning - Work addressing the council's priorities around community development in local neighbourhoods.

To find out more phone [01273 296821](tel:01273 296821) or visit: www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/communitygrants

European funding

The city council's European Team aims to ensure that Brighton & Hove plays a full part in the European Union (EU) and derives maximum benefit from EU membership. This is accomplished through accessing EU funding and grants, actively participating in European networks, obtaining relevant and timely EU information and influencing EU policies with local relevance.

With approximately 200 different EU funding streams in existence the team actively promotes key grants that are relevant to the city, such as INTERREG IIIA which supports Anglo-French co-operation projects, and the European Social Fund which promotes 'employability' and funding for schools.

The team also provides advice and support for anyone wanting to bid for European funds by organising bidding workshops, one-to-one meetings, a partner search service for projects requiring European partners and provision of written briefing materials on particular funds.

For current information about funds and grants contact [01273 292622](tel:01273 292622). To read more about the team's work visit: www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/europe

Developing a Sustainable Economy

Climate change causes higher global temperatures, rising sea levels, changes in air quality and extreme weather events which can bring social and economic disasters. These changes are largely man made and are a result of excessive energy consumption and the burning of fossil fuels which release Carbon Dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) back into the atmosphere. Climate change will continue to increase and eventually become irreversible if there is no deliberate effort to reduce emissions.

What is the Council doing?

Taking the lead

Brighton & Hove City Council is deeply committed to creating a sustainable city that "ensures well-being and quality of life for everyone now and for generations to come." It has a key role to play both as the local authority and as a large local employer with its own impact on natural resources.

As one of the core signatories of the Nottingham Declaration on Climate Change in 2005 the council has committed to taking the lead locally in meeting the challenges of climate change. It has produced a Climate Change Action Plan for the city with early priorities to get its own house in order.

A comprehensive programme for raising public awareness about climate change is now being developed. In 2006 the council completed a successful pilot scheme of free environmental master classes for Queens Park residents.

A Sustainability Strategy for Brighton & Hove was produced in 2002 and provides a framework for addressing economic, social and environmental issues together when planning for current and future needs. It includes action plans to meet twelve identified objectives. The full text is available at: www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/sustainability

Managing its carbon emissions

The authority is already using renewable sources for all its electricity and is currently undergoing a carbon management programme to systematically work out its carbon emissions and how to reduce them. This work with the Carbon Trust will lead to a 5-10 year implementation plan to tackle emissions. Key areas where reductions are likely to be made are council buildings and schools, street lighting, fleet vehicles, purchasing, waste collection and disposal and staff travel.

Promoting sustainable transport

The authority is encouraging all of its 8,000 employees to review their business and personal travel habits, with incentives encouraging more people out of their cars and onto trains, buses and cycles. There are also plans for a major rapid transport system for the city, based on an extensive study of future needs.

The Brighton & Hove bus network which works in partnership with the council won 'Transport Authority of the Year' in 2005. The network has been so successful that the council's transport manager was invited to address the House of Commons about how we have bucked the national trend and increased bus usage by 5% each year for 10 years.

Conserving resources

The widespread use of waste paper bins in offices has been abolished and replaced by recycling facilities for regular waste such as paper, cardboard, plastics, and glass. There are also arrangements for recycling cds, toner cartridges, mobile phones and old electronic equipment.

The council discourages unnecessary printing and many services such as Planning Applications can now be processed entirely on-line. All council documents are printed or photocopied double-sided whenever possible.

Recent drought conditions and the resultant hose pipe ban have, once again, highlighted the need to conserve water. The council has developed a water action plan which assesses water usage across all of the council's operations and identifies ways to reduce consumption.

What can your business do?

Better management of energy and water can save you money! The average office wastes about £6,000 a year by leaving equipment on over the weekend and holidays.

* Reduce, reuse & recycle

* Reduce carbon emissions by regular energy auditing and better management (e.g. track monthly meter readings for consumption patterns –how much energy is used out of core business hours?).

* Choose renewable energy suppliers
www.greenelectricity.org/business.html

* Switch off equipment

* Promote greener staff travel schemes
Join a car club, set up a car-share scheme, encourage cycling, walking and use of public transport.

* Compensate for business flights
Find out how to measure and compensate for your flight's footprint at www.clevel.co.uk/guerba/

* Buy local goods and services & recycled products.
They save energy, road and air miles and sustain local jobs and businesses.

* Check suppliers for their environmental policies
You can even hold your office parties at a local carbon balanced pub. There are plenty to choose from. Find them at: www.drinkinbrighton.com

* Reduce water use

Southern Water has produced a guide on how to reduce water use in business and save money on water bills. It's called 'Small changes, Big savings' and can be downloaded from their website at: www.southernwater.co.uk

* Use environmentally sound cleaning products and reduce pollutants in the water

Reduce your carbon footprint

A carbon footprint is the amount of carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) released into the atmosphere by a particular person, business or country. It is usually measured over a period of twelve months in tonnes of CO<sub>2</sub>.

By changing your sources of energy, patterns of travel and reducing or recycling the amount of waste you create your carbon footprint can be reduced. You can also invest in projects that offset your CO<sub>2</sub> emissions such as renewable energy schemes or tree planting.

The goal is for us all to become carbon neutral by:

- * Understanding our own carbon footprint
- * Taking actions to reduce our future impact
- * Compensating for carbon emissions we can't avoid.

Finding sites & premises

Demand for business premises of all types remains high. In view of this, many of the capital projects currently being planned and developed across the city are designed to ensure that more modern, environmentally friendly and technologically up-to-date commercial premises will be coming on stream in the near future. You can find out more about these projects on pages 22-23.

Office Accommodation

There is over 5 million sq ft of commercial office space in Brighton & Hove of which about 1½ million sq ft is currently available to rent, lease or buy. A substantial proportion of this is modern, high specification accommodation at rents that are competitive for South East England.

Continued building development in the office market demonstrates that confidence in the city is high and that there is an appetite for high class, 'head-quarter' style office accommodation.

Managed Office Space

Managed office space is ideal for businesses wanting immediate, available office facilities on flexible terms. Whether you need space for 1 person or 50, for three months or three years, Brighton & Hove has plenty to offer. Prices currently range between £12 and £30 per annum per sq ft and reflect the quality of accommodation and range of facilities on offer from basic to full virtual office services and video conferencing.

Some spaces provide support for a specific sector of industry or commerce and again prices will reflect this. An up-to-date list of companies offering managed business space is available on our business website at www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/business. You can also check current availability on any of the following websites.

Light Industrial & Warehousing

The majority of the light industrial and warehousing stock lies on the identified industrial estates and business parks within the city although there are some instances where these can be found outside these areas. Of the 300,000 sq. ft of commercial space in the city about 10% is currently available. A full list of industrial estates and business parks in the city can be found on the council's business website at www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/business.

Managed light industrial/workshop or office accommodation offers flexible leasing arrangements but is less likely to offer other facilities unless orientated to a specific business activity. Rents for flexible accommodation are generally on the lower end of the scale compared to leasehold agreements which represents good value for small businesses setting up.

Commercial Property Database

Our commercial property database gives immediate access to information about what properties are currently available and has proved to be very popular. Sponsored by the City Council with full support and involvement from the local commercial agents, this database provides free, up to date information on available commercial and retail space within the city. A simple registration process records your e-mail address so full details of properties can be e-mailed to you instantly on request. Go to: www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/business and select the link to commercial property.

Pre-planning advice

We can facilitate pre-planning application meetings with colleagues in city planning to ensure that any proposal meets the requirements of the local planning authority and addresses any issues at an early stage before a formal planning application is submitted.

Building for the future

Brighton & Hove is a 180° city. Bordered to the south by the sea and to the north by the South Downs, a protected Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, there is little potential to expand outwards. We therefore need to maximise available space by building on previously developed land, referred to as brownfield sites. Increasing demand for affordable housing, modern office space, public amenities, leisure and community facilities and an efficient transport system, is driving forward a great number of exciting redevelopments which aim to maximise the available space and provide much needed facilities at a minimum cost to the environment.

The city council fully embraces and often surpasses government guidelines for sustainable development. Consequently, all of the projects currently underway in the city include substantial measures that ensure wise and efficient use of resources, such as community heating schemes, renewable and low carbon energy systems and sustainable use of water. Recently completed projects such as the Jubilee Library and Westergate House have received awards for their innovative, environmentally sound design features.

The council also exceeds government recommendations for the percentage of 'affordable housing' included in each development. This is the term used for lower cost homes that are aimed at local people on the waiting list or key workers.

An important factor in the location and design of these developments is a desire to re-invigorate particular areas by creating local jobs and providing public facilities, thereby improving the quality of life for residents and reducing the need to travel.

On the following pages is a guide to some of the exciting developments currently in planning or development. Information is current at the time of going to print. For up to the minute information or more detail about a particular project please contact the Major Projects Team on 01273 292552 or visit the council's website at www.brighton-hove.gov.uk/business and choose the Keysites and Development link.

The map on page 28-29 shows the location of each development.

Brighton & Hove City Council:

Goldstone Partnership

Brighton & Hove City Council has been in a strategic partnership with constructor ROK, and consultants F T Allen and Gyoury Self, for just over three years. The five year partnership was set up to design and build a series of new build and refurbishment projects, principally schools, based on the PPC 2000 form of contract. This contract enshrines the principles as laid out in the government report 'Rethinking Construction' and operates on an open book basis being based on mutual trust openness and honesty, which has been built up over the three years.

There are key objectives such as reduction of financial and construction risk, which aim to deliver buildings which are better suited to clients needs and which are more capable of being delivered on budget.

The partnership has successfully completed several projects including the new £3million, 'post 16' special needs college at Varndean, school extensions at West Hove Junior School, Hillside special school and Goldstone primary school, together with refurbishments at the Councils headquarters building and a refurbishment of a health clinic for South Downs Health. Two childrens centres were also completed, one at Whitehawk and one at Morley Street. Currently two projects are under way to construct new dining halls at Downs Junior and West Hove Infants schools and feasibility work has started on major extensions at two of the city's secondary schools.

The partnership also benefits from its relationship with key sub contract partners, who are also signed up to the PPC 2000 contract. Companies such as roofing, steelwork and mechanical and electrical all have input together with the main constructor, right from inception of the projects. This irons out any potential construction and site problems early on and means that contingency sums can be reduced.

REGENERATING BRIGHTON MARINA

The Brighton Marina Regeneration Project will create a wealth of new and attractive public spaces, including the creation of a new Marina Square replacing the existing roundabout, an under-cliff park and lagoon, a foot and cycle bridge from the cliff, a 2.5km jogging track and an entertainment piazza for all ages and all seasons.

Over 500 new affordable homes targeted at key workers, new and improved retail facilities, a doctors surgery, a new and improved ASDA Superstore provided with minimal disruption to customers, hundreds of new jobs and many environmentally-friendly innovations are also provided.

“At the outset we gave the community a commitment through a programme of public consultation, that we would work collaboratively and openly to create a development that responds to the aspirations of all stakeholders.

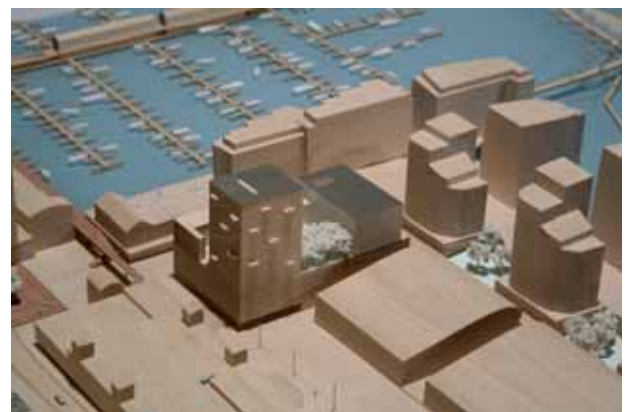

“True to this commitment, we have further reduced the height of the building proposed for the Estate Manager’s Office from 15 to six storeys, have radically changed and lowered many of the other buildings and have adjusted the transport interchange to make it a much lighter and less obtrusive feature.”

Other exciting innovations planned for the site include ‘green’ rooftops improving bio-diversity, air quality and views from above; discounted power and heat for residents; rainwater harvesting; car and cycle clubs; new bus priority measures; discounted travel vouchers; and a car park management scheme. The project will also provide major contributions to the city’s strategic requirement for a Rapid Transport System; a creative public art strategy; plenty of private green space for residents; and a dedicated children’s education and play area.

Jim Dennis, project leader from Explore Living, said: “Our designs respond to a five-month public consultation process during which we have spoken to more than 1,500 people and listened to their concerns and aspirations for the western quarter of the marina.”

“The overwhelming majority of people who have completed the project’s questionnaire - 91% - have indicated their support for regeneration, saying that the top three priorities are easier access and movement for pedestrians and cyclists, improved public spaces and improved views of the marina, from outside and within.

Explore Living, leading this project, is the house building arm of Laing O’Rourke, the Kent-based private construction company which has won awards for its ability to build state of the art projects to budget, on time and with the least amount of disturbance to neighbours. Some of the projects it is best known for are Terminal 5 at Heathrow and the recently completed Ascot Racecourse.

The Proposed Brighton International Arena

The Arena will be an inspiring, state-of-the-art multi-purpose entertainment facility about which Brighton's residents can be genuinely excited and proud.

The project delivers a unique vision, encompassing a wide range of activities that will capture everyone's imagination. It will cater both to passive and active consumers of entertainment, ensuring an appeal that extends to the whole community.

The Arena is a project of passion, dedication and belief and fulfils a promise made to the City Council and in particular to two very special people dear to the hearts of the city of Brighton – now both sadly deceased - Alan Weeks and Lis Solkhon.

Upon completion, the Arena's main bowl will host a range of sports (including ice skating, ice hockey with long-awaited return of the Tigers, and basketball) and entertainment events (such as pop and classical concerts, conferences, and graduation ceremonies). As well as elite sport and entertainment, the Arena will also have a key focus on sports development through the public skating rink adjacent to the main bowl and the activities that this will stage (ice skating and ice hockey schools, plus national centres of excellence).

The hospitality area surrounding the bowl will consist of 42 hospitality suites – appointed with the business user in mind with full internet access in each suite, High Definition TV's, DVD players, PlayStation consoles, video conferencing units and the very latest in Sony technology, plus access to the main bowl via sliding windows. The suites can be used for business meetings and seminars as well as for events, and there will also be breakout conference and meeting space at this level.

The appeal of the Arena will be further broadened and increased through the delivery of a museum and small auditorium that will act as a small digital 'club' cinema, a dance studio, a Crèche, a fully-equipped High Definition recording studio with editing suites (to be used by the University of Sussex under the terms of an established agreement to provide educational opportunities) so that events can be recorded live, DVD compilations of recorded live events can take place, film-makers can make digital animation films, documentary films etc.

The museum will display Brighton & Hove's skating history and showcases will also be offered to local conservation societies to display the splendour of Regency Brighton, particularly the KempTown area, and they in turn will be able to utilise the small digital cinema for presentations and events

The Arena building will also feature 25,000 sq ft of bars, cafes and restaurants (including a signature chef restaurant), and a 10,000 sq ft sports injury clinic centre of excellence which will undertake minor day surgery and which could be used to complement the NHS Trust and other hospitals including the local BUPA and Nuffield Hospitals.

The BIA will also act as the principal sponsor to SE Dance, promoting their internationally acclaimed contemporary dance films and their local work with disadvantaged people.

The Arena will showcase Sony technology under an exciting agreement that will maximise the visitor experience for each patron coming through our doors. The Arena will have high definition screens throughout, including the main bowl. This means that the main Arena can act as a 10,000-seat digital cinema if required, offering further exciting opportunities for the Arena to host important events and further raise the profile of Brighton.

Sony's contribution will mean that PlayStation consoles are to be located throughout the Arena. State-of-the-art access control systems with over 100 CCTV cameras and a facial detection system will be installed. The Arena will also display real-time traffic and transport information to benefit all of its patrons.

As well as providing a groundbreaking facility that Brighton needs and deserves, this magnificent entertainment facility is also committed to being a valuable contributor to the local community, raising money for local charities including The Rockinghorse Appeal where we hope to establish a direct link from the new 'Alex' children's hospital being built in Kemp Town, so that the children can enjoy the live events staged at the BIA.
